SHOW THE WORLD THAT PHILADELPHIA IS THE RIGHT CHOICE TO HOST THE 2018 or 2022
FIFA WORLD CUP

The U.S. Men's National Team completes its Send-Off Series for the 2010 FIFA World Cup when they face 2002 FIFA World Cup third-place finisher Turkey at Philadelphia's Lincoln Financial Field on Saturday, May 29, at 2 p.m. The USA's final roster in South Africa will take the field while fans send the squad off to the world's biggest sporting event in patriotic fashion.

More than the game, however, Philadelphia is using the event to make a stronger case to host FIFA World Cup soccer games in 2018 or 2022 as part of the USA Bid Committee's effort to bring this spectacular sporting event to America. You can help this cause by supporting the USA at the stadium and showing how much fans in the United States care. This game is one of only a handful of home matches the USA plays this year prior to FIFA naming the host countries this December for the 2018 and 2022 tournaments.

As a special benefit to our members and friends and to encourage you to enthusiastically support the event this May, the Delaware Youth Soccer Association (together with U.S. Soccer) is offering you the opportunity to order tickets for the game ahead of the general public. Your private sale starts this Monday (Feb. 22) at 12 p.m. ET and ends late Monday night (technically Tuesday, Feb. 23, at 2 a.m. ET). Tickets then become available to Visa® cardholders only on Feb. 23 at 10 a.m., followed by the general public sale on Feb. 24.

Advance ticket prices are $25 Endlines; $33 Corners; $45 Sidelines; $62 Midfield; $85 VIP Midfield and Club Seats; $110 Club Midfield; $135 Front Row Seats; and $225 On-Field Seats. All prices do not include convenience and handling charges (which are added through Ticketmaster).
